

tradetalk

OUT OF PERU SILVER DONATE JEWELLERY TO THE INCA CHARITY BALL

Out of Peru, the ethical sterling silver jewellery brand, has recently won the Ethical Award from The Ethical Company Organisation. Simon Ogilvie-Harris Co-Founder and Managing Director of Out of Peru has donated one of their limited edition items of jewellery to the high-profile inaugural Inca Ball to be held on 16 November at the Royal Opera House in Convent Garden.

Other sponsors and friends of the event include: Rio Tinto, Anglo American and world renowned fashion photographer, Mario Testino. Through this charity, they will be supporting the SOS Aldea Infantil Juliaca project in Puno, Peru (one of the poorest provinces in Peru) and their contribution will help finalise the construction of a local village consisting of 12 family homes for orphans and abandoned children.

For more information and to purchase tickets for the event see the Inca Ball website www.theincaball.com

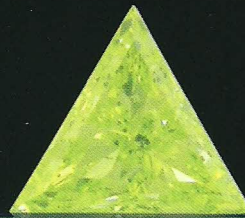

Out of Peru's Planeta necklace donated to the Inca Ball

For information about Out of Peru, please see their website www.outofperu.co.uk fancy something ...

different?

it's only natural

M. VAINER LIMITED
diamonds@mvainer.co.uk

T: 020 7242 7078

F: 020 7430 2345